

Beneath the surface I drink
From all that is dark and wet
Though it is base and unrefined

On the ground I will grow a majestic trunk
With beautiful bark and a solid center
Even though it is selfish
To keep this strength for myself

As I grow toward the sky
With beautiful leaves, flowers, and fruits
I will share these gifts
Grown from the dark soil and solid trunk

© 2002, Aaron Elliott